

Condo Size Barbeques

Barbeque season is right around the corner! Having smaller patios and a will to maximize the space we do have, condo dwellers often miss out on outdoor cooking. We have found these great small condo size barbeques that can either mount to your patio railing or be mounted on a portable stand. These compact barbeques offer all the flavour of large gas grills but take up a fraction of the space and are fueled by the small camping size propane cylinders rather than a big bulky tank that you have to refill. Be sure to check your building's bylaws and rules on barbeques and if they are permitted before you start cooking.
